

ACLCP Spring Conference

Friday, April 30, 2010

Holiday Inn Hershey/Harrisburg at Grantville

Laura N. Gasaway, Assoc. Dean for Academic Affairs & Professor of Law, University of North Carolina School of Law, presents:

Copyright Law Update – Digital Issues

This workshop is designed to provide librarians with an update of the current status of the U.S. copyright law as it applies to digital works. The library exception, section 108 of the Copyright Act, has been amended in some ways to apply specifically to digital copying. Additionally, a number of recommendations have been made for further amendments to accommodate better current library practice as it applies to digital works. At the same time, publishers and other copyright owners are seeking to protect potential new markets for digital products, and this may clash with the expectations and desires of librarians and library users. The Google Book Settlement has brought a number of these issues to the forefront.

SCHEDULE

- 8:30 Registration
- 9:00 Keynote address
- 10:30 Break
- 10:45 Keynote continues
- 12:00 Lunch
- 1:30 Afternoon session
- 3:00 Adjournment

REGISTER ONLINE

Registration at www.aclcp.org opens March 1 for ACLCP members, March 29 for non-members

Cost: $10/member, $50 non-member
(Sorry, no refunds)

Send registration form with check made payable to ACLCP to:

Susan Walker, Admissions Office
Franklin & Marshall College
P.O. Box 3003
Lancaster, PA 17604-3003

Deadline to register: 4/19/2010